10 Killed in Coal Mine Disaster

Explosion in Depths Sounds Death Knell of Miners and Shakes Town.

PORTE HOOD, N. S., Feb. 7.—Ten coal miners employed in the pit of the Port Hood mine in this town were killed by an explosion today. All of the bodies have been recovered. There is ground for the belief that a charge of powder may have become ignited, causing the explosion.

The mine had previously been inspected, and the lower levels, as well as other parts of the mine, had been found free from gas or fire damp.

The whole town felt the shock of the explosion and hundreds of women and children rushed to the scene within ten minutes. There are being enacted scores of pathetic scenes all around the property.

Almost immediately gangs of men were called from other mines to help rescue the unfortunate under ground if possible or to recover the bodies.

UNION OIL COMPANY DOUBLES ITS CAPACITY AFTER PROSPEROUS YEAR

OFFICE OF THE UNION OIL CO. AT EMERYVILLE.

Twenty years ago and its early activities were directed to the gradual acquisition of oil properties, and it now owns and controls the production of more than 25,000 acres of oil land, all situated in California, but scattered through eleven counties of the State.

In early years the company transported most of its production by two ocean-going sailing vessels operated with tugs, plying up and down the coast of California, and having a carrying capacity of about 24,000 barrels, but this has given to the Pacific coast absolute competition in bulk oil business.

The year 1897 was a wonderfully successful one for the company, but the outlook for 1908 promises that this year will far surpass the last.

pioneer in extending the market for California oil.

The company is extensively engaged in the production and marketing of all the various products of petroleum, gasoline, benzine, kerosene, lubricants and asphaltum. The company also operates a refinery near Bakersfield, from which large quantities of California asphaltum are produced.

Throughout the history of the company has refused to enter into any alliances with its competitors, but has given to the Pacific coast absolute competition in bulk oil business.

The year 1897 was a wonderfully successful one for the company, but the outlook for 1908 promises that this year will far surpass the last.

"SAUSAGE" IS DEFINED BY U. S. FOOD EXPERTS

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—"What is a sausage," was determined by United States food experts after day's conference and the joint committee on food standards finished its work yesterday.

After defining a sausage, according to the committee's standard, the commission further holds:

"If the (sausage) contains no larger amount of water than the meats from which it is prepared, and if it bears a name indicating its nature, it corresponds to such descriptive name. All animal tissues used as containers, such as casings, stomachs, etc., are clean and sound."

Canned, corned or cured and bottled meats are declared to be comminuted meat from neat cattle or swine, cooked, cut and smoked or otherwise prepared.

Salad meat is declared to be a "mixture of not less than ten per cent of cooked, comminuted meat, chopped suet, apple and other fruit, with salt, spices, vinegar, oil, lemon juice, wine, concentrated or fermented fruit juices and spirituous liquors."

RAGLAND TOO ILL TO APPEAR IN COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The sentence of President Rufus T. Ragland of the Citizens State bank, who was found guilty of exhibiting a deadly weapon in a riotous threatening manner, was suspended on condition yesterday in Judge Corliss' department of the Police Court this morning. Ragland's attorney called attention to the condition of his client in court yesterday and offered to submit proof that his client was still a sick man.

This was not deemed necessary and there was no objection on the part of the prosecution when a continuance was requested.

DIFFERENT WAYS OF SELECTING NEW GOODS

A new season will soon open and we shall have a good deal to say about our styles and novelties. In anticipation of having to supply a bigger Oakland than ever we have bought much bigger stocks. But the increase in variety is greater proportionately than the increase in bulk. We have had more buyers on the ground who have "gone through" more wholesalers', importers' and manufacturers' supplies, selecting only the best of each. Each garment, each yard of goods, each article assembled for our Spring business possesses exclusive merits or it would not be here.

But never the least deviation from our principle of right-pricing.

'SKULK'S' EDITORS ARE ORDERED TO DROP NAME

Stop Press to Cut Head's Seminary Representative From Staff.

BERKELEY Feb 7 — Shortly after the first issue of the Skulk, the new inter school magazine published by the fraternity students appeared yesterday there were strong indications that the entire issue would have to be suppressed. Miss Head, principal of Head's school was quite indignant to find the name of Miss Hazel Lawton one of her pupils adorning the editorial page as "Head's School Editor".

Instantly there was commotion in the camps of the student editors. Miss Head forbade them by phone to use the name of her school or any of her pupils as having any connection with the magazine. She threatened them with all sorts of law they declare if they persisted and ordered them to destroy all the papers which associated her name with the publication.

Finally the young editors recovered from the effects of the storm which had broken about their ears sufficient to stop the press and take measures to eliminate the name of Miss Head's school from further copies of the Skulk. Two of them then essayed to find out Miss Head's reasons.

Refused Audience.

They went to Miss Head's school and begged an audience with her. She refused to see them they declare but her secretary explained that it was because Miss Head's school was exclusive and did not wish to be associated with public schools even in the publication of a school paper.

It appears that Miss Head did not hold Miss Lawton in any way guilty of a misdeemeanor for the whole affair had arisen before she was aware of what was going on. When she did by chance learn how the matter stood she took drastic measures to prevent repetition of anything of like nature in the future. Miss Head announced publicly yes today that she does not con-

Miss Edwin Mastick and Gerald Anthony Will Wed in the Spring

ALAMEDA Feb 7 — The engagement of Gerald Anthony of Alameda to Miss Edith B. Marck of Portland, Ore is being to the oldest friends of the popular young couple. Miss Mastick is the daughter of Mr and Mrs J. M. Mastick of Portland, Ore and is a cousin of Miss Winifred Mastick of this city. She is one of the prominent society girls in the northern city and also has many friends in the Bay area and elsewhere as in the social world.

Gerald Anthony is the son of E. A. Anthony, assistant superintendent of the coast division of the San Francisco and Oregon Railroad and a graduate of the State University and has spent most of his life in the big cities. He has a host of friends.

No date is mentioned for the wedding but it will probably be an event of the spring.

GETS 3 MONTHS FOR SPENDING OWN MONEY

BOSTON Mass — That a man spent every cent he had and a little more than $4000 the savings of a lifetime so that he might swear in the poor debtors court that he had not $20 in his possession and could thereby escape paying what he considered an exorbitant dentist's bill was the unprecedented charge which has been made in court here.

Harris Friedman a dentist was suing Michael J. Doyle. Friedman swore that after he had threatened to sue him for a $100 dentist bill Doyle gambled and drank and gave away money to questionable characters with the deliberate purpose of spending every cent he had. He got rid of it in a week. Friedman swore before he could get judgment Doyle before he could get judgment Doyle was found guilty of fraud and sentenced to three months imprisonment.

PROF O'NEILL FINDS BERKELEY GAS O K

BERKELEY Feb 7 — Professor Edmond O'Neill, dean of the department of chemistry in the University of California assisted by several students has been engaged for several days in making tests of the gas furnished to Berkeley consumers by the Oakland Gas Light and Heat Co. He will have the complete results ready for the public within a few days. Speaking from his casual observations regarding the product which is now being sold in this town Prof O'Neill says the standard is up to normal and complies with the ordinance of the Oakland councilmen made several years ago.

There is undoubtedly a small quantity of sulphur in the gas and I cannot say as to the heat units until the tests have been completed.

MASS MEETING TO ARRANGE FOR RECEPTION

Berkeley Sends Invitation to the President to be Present at Reception.

BERKELEY Feb 7 — Temporary Secretaries Burrows and McAllister are engaged in perfecting plans for the big meeting to be held in the Town Hall on February 17th to discuss the reception and entertainment of the American fleet. The invitation sent by Major Ferrier to President Roosevelt yesterday urging that he participate in the festivities of Berkeley day is regarded as a coup de main. It is expected to be the request of the kind to be "gracious" to the chief executive of the nation.

RUEF'S AFFIDAVIT ON LANGDON'S CONDUCT

Lays Bare Details of Breaking of Immunity Contract by the Prosecution.

Abe Ruef has laid bare the most interesting details of the immunity contract and all the incidents leading up to the final declaration by the prosecution that it would not be kept. The facts came out in an affidavit filed in court yesterday by Henry Ach, Ruef's counsel, when Ruef was called to court on his trolley case.

"On the evening of January 12, 1908," the affidavit reads in substance, "Ruef was informed by District Attorney Langdon that he Langdon, could not carry out the immunity contract, for the reason that the Judge of this court would not agree to a dismissal of the charges pending against him in Department 11."

Ruef states that "before and at the time of the making of said immunity contract, the assistant district attorney, Heney, and the district attorney did assure this affiant that the Judge of this Department 11 did agree that he would dismiss said indictment upon motion of the district attorney, which assurance as to the said agreement of the said Judge was relied upon by this affiant by Rev. Jacob Wito and Rev. Bernard Kappan, both of whom vouch for this defendant that said agreement was made by the said Judge in their presence."

Burns' Part.

Ruef claims that he placed implicit belief in these assurances, and the activity of Detective William J. Burns is touched on as follows:

"That in the matter of negotiating with this affiant William J. Burns was the special and accredited agent of the prosecution and the district attorney and the assistant district attorney, Francis J. Heney, from a period of time long prior to the return of said indictment into this court and until at least the 13th day of January, 1908; and this affiant during all of said time did receive repeated assurance from the said William J. Burns as such representative and agent of the prosecution and the prosecution and the prosecuting officers that this affiant would never be prosecuted upon said Indictment No. 823, and that the said indictment would be dismissed as against this affiant."

Ruef Kept Promise.

Ruef states in the following words that he fulfilled the program of the prosecution to the end, that the public might not become aware of the immunity bargaining:

"While said contract was still in full force and effect this affiant did in open court say 'Not guilty' in response to a demand for a plea to Indictment No. 823; that said alleged plea was entered pursuant to the agreement made with the said District Attorney and the said assistant district attorney, and all said steps were taken by this affiant, including the entering of said alleged plea, with the knowledge, consent and direction of said District Attorney and said Assistant District Attorney Francis J. Heney, to the end that the fact that the immunity which had been agreed to be granted this affiant should not be made public; that no attempt was made by the prosecution or the District Attorney to try the said cause against this defendant until subsequent to the 13th day of January, 1908."

What Ruef says regarding the breaking of the immunity contract in the face of the assurances he had received also makes interesting reading.

Written Promise.

"At the time of the delivery of said Indictment to this affiant, this affiant was in the custody of one William J. Biggs, an officer appointed by the Judge of Department No. 6 of this court, to detain and imprison this defendant, and he remained in the actual custody of said William J. Biggs until January 8, 1908, at which time by order of Department No. 6 of this court defendant was, and ever since has been and still is confined in the county jail as a prisoner; that during all of said time and up to January 19, 1908, this affiant had received and was relying upon an absolute written promise of the District Attorney of the City and County of San Francisco and one of the Assistant District Attorneys, to wit, Francis J. Heney, that all indictments returned by the grand jury of the city and county of San Francisco against this defendant, including Indictment No. 823, would be dismissed and not prosecuted as against this defendant."

PRODUCTS OF NATURE

Are the Most Nutritious, Delicious and Beneficial.

How quickly the human system rebels at nature's products which Providence did not design as a food or medicine, yet how many of our most nourishing and delicious foods and fruits, as well as our most healing medicines are enveloped in unwholesome coverings, and it is left for the ingenuity of man to prepare them for use.

For instance the nourishing eggs must be broken from its shell, the succulent oyster, or the crab, taken from its shell. Nuts, oranges and bananas are encased in most unwholesome shells or coverings. The roots and herbs of the field contain some of our most potent and healing medicaments which must be extracted for use. Just so the cod's liver contains well-known curative elements, unexposed in the treatment of pulmonary troubles.

For centuries people were obliged to swallow greasy cod liver oil and emulsion to get the benefit of these valuable curative elements. Physicians the world over recognized the usefulness of the oil, but how to separate the medicinal elements from the objectionable oil has been the question.

After years of experimenting, two eminent French chemists have, by a scientific extracting and concentrating process produced from fresh cods, livers all of the medicinal healing and body building elements of cold liver oil, omitting the oil entirely, and these combined with percentages of iron make Vinol, which is more potent than any other known Cod Liver preparation. As a body builder, and strength creator and for all pulmonary troubles it has no equal. Try Vinol on our guarantee. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Calif.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—William H. Talbot, the well known lumber dealer, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from his wife, Annie D. Talbot, by Judge Seawell of department 1 of the Superior Court in a decision handed down this morning.

Pathetic was the opening of the case, with the weeping of the defendant and the grilling of the plaintiff upon the witness stand, even more pathetic was the closing, represented by the decision, binding as it does, both parties as it were in an iron grasp, with ironclad rules, that must not be broken.

Everything is provided for, the parents are instructed at just what times they may see their children, and for just how long a period the latter must remain in certain schools.

Judge Seawell states in the findings that all the allegations presented by Talbot, except of course, those of intoxication, are true, with the possible exception that the court holds that Mrs. Talbot is a proper person to have the exercise and care and custody of children.

The action of Talbot's attorneys has the effect of annulling the ugly charges made against Mrs. Talbot. They will now be stricken from the records. It was to clear herself of them that Mrs. Talbot produced witness after witness from highest to humblest strata in society, to testify to her sobriety at all times and her attentiveness to her children. Without removing the stigma from the eyes of the court she could not hope to be given the custody of any of the children resulting from her marriage twenty years ago to William H. Talbot.

Elegantly Gowned.

Attorneys Peter F. Dunne and Purcell Rowles were on hand with the plaintiff when the case was called. The defendant, elegantly gowned, was accompanied by her lawyers, John J. Barrett and Samuel M. Shortridge. Aside from those having business in Department 1, there were no spectators to witness the closing incidents of a divorce action.

Shortridge asked Mrs. Talbot to go to the witness stand. Her velvet garments brushed the plain business garb of the plaintiff as she passed him with averted eyes in the narrow aisle. The question put to her by Shortridge, "Mrs. Talbot have you ever been addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors?" was not answered. Before the witness could reply came the voice of Attorney Dunne, stating to the court that a motion made by the defense to strike out all testimony relating to the question was still pending.

"Since that motion was made," continued Dunne, "many witnesses have been put on by the defendant and many more are ready to be heard. Our testimony has been overcome, and we therefore are willing that all testimony on this point be stricken from the records on both sides."

Judge Seawell then ruled the testimony out. Shortridge responded,

"This phase of the testimony being eliminated, and in view of the fact that counsel says it has been overcome, we will rest our case."

Within ten minutes from the time the case was called, all concerned had left the courtroom, theater for four months before a domestic drama whose epilogue will be spoken by Mr. Justice Seawell.

This morning the announcement was made that other legal provisions for Vera Talbot, not to exceed $250 per month and $300 per month for herself for alimony, to be paid on the first day of March, and every month thereafter.

The mother is to be allowed to see Eric and William on the first Sunday and the second Thursday of each month, and to take them out, provided she complies with the school regulations. Vera is to be placed in a Catholic boarding school, the choice of four schools being given to Mrs. Talbot and Mr. Talbot.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

WOMAN STRUCK BY TRAIN MAY DIE

Nellie C. Keane, San Francisco, Still Unconscious With Injured Skull and Shoulder.

Mrs. Nellie C. Keane of 2224 Grove street, San Francisco, who was struck by a train at the foot of Thirteenth Avenue, East Oakland, last night, sustaining injuries which will probably prove fatal, is now at the Receiving Hospital under the care of Dr. W. H. Irwin, and little chance for her recovery is held out.

She was waiting for the train at the station at Thirteenth avenue shortly before 7 o'clock and was so close to the track that when the train came the engine struck her and threw her violently aside, knocking her unconscious. She was immediately taken to the hospital, where she recovered sufficiently to tell who she was.

Dr. Irwin found that besides a fractured left shoulder, her ears were bleeding, indicating a probable fracture of the skull at the base of the brain. She is still unconscious.

Mrs. Keane was richly dressed, and is evidently a woman of means. She wore valuable jewels. A $30 piece that she had in her purse was flung out of it by the collision and was found on it afterward. As far as is known she has no relatives but has been living in San Francisco with Mrs. J. G. Price.

CITY MAY BUY LAND DONATED 30 YEARS AGO

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 7.—Land donated by the Estudillo family thirty years ago to the town of San Leandro with the provision that it would be used as a park, may now be granted to the city absolutely if the proposal of the Estudillo heirs is accepted.

They have offered the land, which includes two blocks, to the city for $30,000. The property has a value of $10,000, and is no longer available for park purposes, being an isolated part of the town.

GREAT INTEREST IS SHOWN IN MANUAL TRAINING

One Principal Declares He Finds Rod is Good for Some Boys.

"Laboratory Manual of Physics," text book by S. E. Coleman, instructor in physics in the Oakland high school, was such a success that a revised edition is about to appear.

Of all the school books published of late years this one by Coleman has probably been more generally adopted than any other. It is being used as a text book in this High school and most of the schools in California and many Eastern States.

Miss Elizabeth Cosby has just returned from a year's trip abroad and has resumed her duties in the High school, where she teaches drawing.

Miss Cosby spent much of her time visiting places of historical note and has brought back many interesting souvenirs of her travels.

New Teachers

Miss E. M. Lamb and Miss G. Alward are two teachers who have come here to teach in the Lincoln school. Miss Alward comes from Livermore, where she taught for some time. She will have charge of the receiving class while Miss Lamb will teach the sixth grade.

Work Faithfully

At the Piedmont school there is just one teacher who has been there since the school was opened on the corner of Piedmont and Echo avenues. She is Miss Elizabeth L. Shearer and she has taught in the school from the time when the enrollment scarcely reached the hundred mark, 'till now.

In 1891, when the school opened, there were just three teachers including the principal. They were Mrs. Nell K. French, now in the shorthand and typewriting department of the Polytechnic High school; Miss M. Snock, who is not teaching at present, and Miss Shearer. These three teachers taught all the grades.

Since the opening there have been several additions to the buildings and the grounds have been beautified. Today there is a daily average in attendance of over 610, an increase of nearly a hundred last year.

R. S. Wheeler, the principal, is doing all in his power to promote the interest of the school and have the pupils feel a personal pride in their school. They have a paper called "The Effort," which appears regularly.

The Piedmont school has one of the finest yards in the city and if not one of the newest schools is one of the pleasantest.

Miss Josephine Divine is a new teacher this term. She was formerly a substitute at the High school, but in the seventh grade this term, in place of Miss Shearer who was transferred to the receiving class.

Up to the beginning of this term the school had the distinction of having a little girl with the largest chest expansion of any child in Oakland. The little girl was Stella Cory and she can expand her chest five and a half inches, which is more than one man in ten thousand can do.

It is astonishing the aptitude the children show in their worksheds. The little girls like to make toy furniture and their taste runs very strongly to the mission style. They make little beds, chairs, tables, and wagons for their dolls and in most every case glue and nail them neatly and firmly.

Once in a while a little girl who has no parental ideas, but after practice on the child's part and a great deal of patient labor on that of the teacher, the fond parent is presented with a match safe, which if it is glued a little savvy is as serviceable as a match safe needs to be.

The children show great interest in this study and in the best iron work make some very attractive envelope and pen holders, which are wonderfully symmetrical and pretty.

Believes Rod

A popular principal in one of the city's largest schools said:

"I certainly believe in corporal punishment, for with some boys there is no other way of getting along with them."

"Of course these days are an improvement on the times when

"Reading and 'riting and 'ithmetic

"Taught to the tune of Hickory Stick."

"But the principle remains the same, for in the homes where they believe in the good old proverb, 'Spare the rod and spoil the child,' the children recognize no other form of punishment."

"Here's my clipping record: When I came to this school I found the rod beneficial to about twenty-five a month. Now the demand fluctuates, but scarcely ever goes above four or five a month. I have accomplished this by trying to awaken ideas and self-respect in the boys."

Whisky and glycerine, mixed with Virgin Oil of Pine, is said to break up a cold in 24 hours and cure any cough that is curable. Get from your druggist one $\frac{1}{4}$ -ounce vial of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and two ounces of glycerine. Mix these thoroughly with a half pint of good whisky and take a teaspoonful every four hours. It has been found that five ounces of tincture of Cinchona compound can be used in place of whisky with the same result. Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure is put up only by the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O. In half-ounce vials, each vial securely sealed in a round wooden case. Be sure to get the genuine.

VANDERBILT'S NEW HOUSE A FREAK

Plans Very Modern Unique Structure in New York for Two Families.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—On two lots now occupied by stables, near Madison avenue, on Fifty-second street, William K. Vanderbilt purposed building a structure unique even for this city of diversified types of buildings. According to the plans which Mr. Vanderbilt filed yesterday, the proposed building, described in the plans as a dwelling, will virtually be an apartment house, but with accommodations for only two families. Entrance hall, reception and billiard rooms occupy most of the first floor. The three floors over these will comprise one apartment with dining room, library, large and small salons, have a dozen bedrooms and three bath rooms. This apartment is practically duplicated on three upper floors. In the basement is a garage with elevator capable of handling the largest motor cars. The cost of the building is estimated at $500,000.

The neighborhood is one of many fine residences, only a block away from the Vanderbilt colony near Fifth avenue and Fifty-second street.

The Mazarin Bible was the earliest book printed with movable metal type. It is without date, but takes its name from the Bibliotheque Mazarin, founded in Paris by Cardinal Mazarin in 1643. This is said to be the dearest book ever sold, a copy of it having brought $19,500 at Quaritch's, London, in 1884.

The Wrong Way

Many Physicians Try to Cure Dyspepsia by Having Their Patients Starve Out the Disease.

This Method May Ruin the Stomach. To become a physician one must study medical literature for a long time and attend several years at a medical college, dissect at least one human body, pass many quizzes and examinations, and at last receive his diploma, which entitles him to the M. D. degree.

Yet all this does not necessarily make a doctor.

We have known many graduates, with their sheepskins, who could not apply the knowledge they had acquired to relieving and curing a patient of dyspepsia.

They were foisted by their first attempt to cure such a patient.

They were not to blame for this, for all the knowledge they acquired from medical works was wholly experimental. They were told to try the following:

Aromatic Ammonia.

Bicarbonate of Soda.

Bicarbonate of Potash.

Blister Salts.

Cataplex.

Charcoal.

Croscote.

Hot Water.

Lime Water.

Magnesia.

Mineral Waters.

Nitric Acid.

Nitro-Muriatic Acid.

Nux Vomica.

Oil of Amber.

Oil of Cajeput.

Rhubarb.

Senna.

Spirits of Lavender.

Starvation.

Strichina.

Sulphur.

Sulphur of Lime.

Tincture Cardamom.

Taraxacum.

Tincture Ginger.

Tincture of Iron.

Tonic.

Vegetable Bitters.

In the last hot water is the only remedy that will not do more harm than good, and its use is still an unsolved problem.

If the professor who coaches the graduate would hand him a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and tell him that it was a specific for dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach ailments, and should be his mainstay in such cases, that one grain of their active principle would digest 2000 grains of food in the stomach, and that aided by this remedy the stomach would soon regain its normal condition, he would do the student more good than sending him forth with a lot of uncertain knowledge about the cure of those diseased conditions.

The young doctor would gain a reputation by curing his first case of dyspepsia.

The patient cured would sound his praises far and near, as do thousands upon thousands who praise Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Instead of experimenting with the mass of medicine in the above list, and doing his patients more harm than good, he would always be gaining a reputation by always curing his patient.

When he met any indication of a disease, or signs, he would discover what hundreds of other doctors did—that he would trouble started with imported digestion and assimilation, then take out of his pocket medicine case a few of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and tell the patient how to use them.

The result would be considered by the patient almost miraculous, and success after success would be achieved by him.

Many blood diseases, skin eruptions and heart troubles yield readily to Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they cure the incubating cause—dyspepsia. If the stomach is wrong, you are wrong all over.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold everywhere at druggists—40 cents per package.

MRS. VANDERBILT TO WED SZECHENYI'S TITLED CHUM

MRS. CORNELIUS VANDERBILT.

MOTHER OF GLADYS ENGAGED TO HADIK

Widow Goes to Hungarian Home of Countess to Marry Daughter's Wedding Guest.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Society has accepted as true the statement made by the close friends of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt that she is to visit the new home of her daughter, Countess Szchenyi in Hungary, to marry Count Hadik, an intimate of her titled son.

Count Hadik in Paris and Berlin was much in the company of Mrs. Vanderbilt and her daughter when Count Szchenyi was with them. It is said that Szchenyi introduced Hadik, who is not yet forty-five, to Mrs. Vanderbilt. He proved an agreeable companion, so much so that it is said that the engagement of the widow and Count Hadik was decided upon before the announcement of the engagement of Miss Gladys and Count Szchenyi.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—In an attempt to reach and take off twenty men who have been impaled on short rations since Tuesday on board the gun barge Elliphat Bliss, icebound in Noyac Bay, the Nonpareil, a big ocean going tug of leave Greenport, L. I., with six miles of ice to crush her way through before she can get into touch with the imprisoned vessel.

The men, employees of the Bliss Manufacturing Company of Brooklyn, makers of projectiles,

were caught in ice while testing war torpedoes on the bay towards the easterly end of Long Island. Several attempts have been made during the week to reach the Bliss by two tugs from New London, Conn., across the sound, which finally gave up and returned to their home port. Captain Day of the Nonpareil said that he had every hope that the big tug would be able to break through the ice. Yesterday it performed the service of conveying the mail to Shelter Island, which has been icebound and without mail service for several days.

There were rations for only one day aboard the Bliss when the ice caught her.

With the ice packed solidly between the stalled gunboat and the shore the men would have been able to take care of themselves, but the presence of many fissures and breaks has made it too hazardous for them to attempt the passage on foot to the shore. The Nonpareil was called from this city yesterday when it was seen that a powerful vessel would be required to break through the jam and rescue the imprisoned men.

NATIONAL PARTIES PLANNING FOR CONVENTIONS

Republicans to Open Headquarters Next Week in Chicago, Democrats Busy in Denver.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Chairman Harry Now, Secretary Elmer Dover and the sub-committee of the Republican National Committee, in charge of arrangements for the national convention, will meet in Chicago February 14, 15 and 16 to prepare for the national gathering.

Headquarters probably will be opened then, although it is likely that the preparations will not require the continuous attendance of any members of the National Committee thus far in advance of the convention.

Now and the other national committees will meet with members of the local committee on arrangements and make final plans for the re-seating of the Coliseum to give it the desired capacity.

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 7.—The local committee of the Democratic National Committee, having in charge the details for quartering and entertaining delegates and visitors during the National Democratic Convention in July, announces that there will be no excessive charges permitted for hotel and other accommodations.

The committee also wishes to assure the public that Denver will be able to furnish quarters for an enormous number of visitors and that all who visit the city next July will find comfortable sleeping quarters at reasonable prices.

The committee points to the manner of handling the Grand Army convention several years ago, when upwards of 100,000 people were guests of the city, as proof of this assertion.

Nine sub-committees were appointed yesterday and the work of preparing for the comfort of the visitors parcelled out to them. Delegations from each State will be received and looked after by residents of Denver, selected and placed on special committees to receive delegations from the State, for which comes the particular delegation they will care for. The entertainment of visitors will be carried out on an elaborate scale and a fund is now being collected for this purpose.

Lard Eaters Should Stop and Think!

There must be something in all this Pure Food Talk. We hear the term "Pure Food" on every hand—Pure Food Shows, Pure Food Laws and Pure Food agitation of all kinds. It simply means that people are awakening to the fact that they cannot be too careful about the purity of their food and the ingredients which enter into its making.

One of the most fruitful sources of indigestion in the past has been the use of lard. Nine times out of ten, the lard which you buy is not fit for any human stomach. Its source is suggestive of uncleanness and unhealthfulness. It makes greasy, indigestible food, and food which is bound eventually to interfere with digestion.

A Daniel Come to Judgment.

Some of the criticisms of the decision of the District Court of Appeals in the Schmitz case have been malignant and mendacious. Others have been merely the expression of ignorance and prejudice. In the latter category belongs the essay of George H. Boke, professor of jurisprudence in the University of California, reversing the decision of the Appellate Court. It is set off, however, with an unusual conceit and a vast amount of impudence.

Mr. Boke's knowledge of the concrete application of American statute law is displayed by his citing the rulings of English courts in common law tort proceedings to prove wrong the rulings of an American court in a criminal case involving the construction of a California statute. However well qualified a man be to descant upon theories of jurisprudence, his competency to pass upon disputed legal points is not proved by manifest ignorance of the broad distinction between civil and criminal law and the fundamental difference between the common law and statute law.

The issues involved in the Schmitz decision are quite simple. The code of California defines the crime of extortion to be compelling payment of money or other act by threats to do an unlawful injury. Extortion being a statutory offense in this State, the definition of the statute must be accepted and not the common law construction of a foreign court predicated on damage claims in civil actions. The threats alleged by the prosecution in the Schmitz case were threats not to renew the liquor licenses of certain French restaurateurs unless they complied with the city ordinances and certain regulations of the police department. These threats were unaccompanied by any demand for money.

In order to support their contention that these threats were made with intent to indirectly extort money, the prosecution was forced to plead that a liquor license is property within the meaning of the law, and that a threat to take it away constituted a threat to do an unlawful injury.

The Appellate Court rightly held that a liquor license is not property and that a threat to deprive the holder thereof of his privilege of selling liquor unless he complied with the conditions on which it was issued was not a threat to do an unlawful injury. Common sense and the common practice of all civilized communities teaches that a license to retail liquor is neither property nor a property right. It is a privilege that is granted and taken away summarily. Threats to deprive publicans of their licenses are made every day. It frequently happens that licenses are taken away before the term for which they were issued has expired. And the holder has no recourse for the summary closing up of his business; cannot get even a return of the money for the unexpired term of his license. Hence it follows that a threat by the constituted authority to declare a liquor license forfeit is not a threat to do an unlawful injury. As the statute of California specifically predicates the crime of extortion upon threats to do an unlawful injury, the Appellate Court decided that the facts alleged in the French restaurant indictments, granting them to be true, did not constitute the crime of extortion as defined by the Penal Code of California.

This plain construction of the plain language of a statute has been denounced by debauched sheets like the Bulletin and a few feather-headed, loose-tongued pulpites as legalizing extortion. Such condemnation is to be ascribed to coarse malice or ignorant prejudice, but Mr. Boke appears in a different light. Personally, his word carries no weight. He has never practiced law or sat on the bench. He is scarcely thirty years of age, and when he ceased to be a student staid in the school room as a pedagogue. He is without reputation among jurists and lawyers. Only by signing himself professor of jurisprudence in the University of California can he obtain a hearing or command attention. It is his position, then, as an instructor in a State institution and not his talents and legal knowledge that gives his views seeming weight and authority. He has written the Appellate Court with a job the people have given him and which he is clearly disqualified to hold, but the mass of people do not know that his attempt to discredit the Court of Appeals is the special plea of a demagogue ass intended to impress the ignorant multitude.

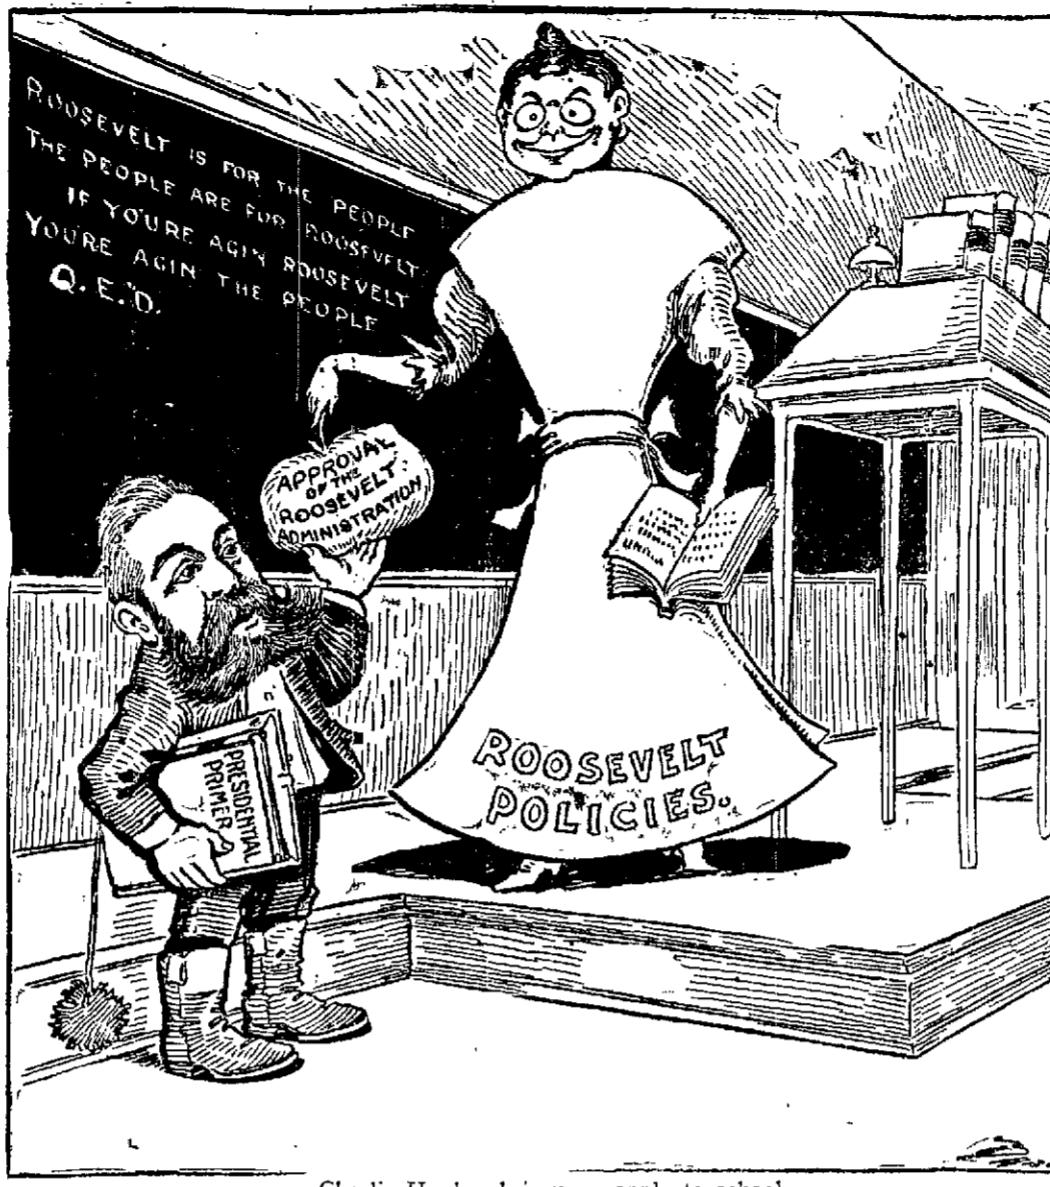

Mr. Boke has abused his position in exposing his ignorance. Sense of propriety alone should have kept him silent, even if the magnitude of his conceit did blind him to his lack of knowledge in regard to matters in which he poses as an expert. As it is, he has simply advertised his lack of manners by displaying his lack of knowledge. The University of California had better set Mr. Boke to digging postholes and hire a gardener to fill the chair of jurisprudence. A gardener cannot do worse as a law lecturer, and Boke may earn his salt digging postholes.

Immunity Contract Speculations.

In an affidavit presented yesterday, Abraham Ruef alleges that District Attorney Langdon notified him on the eighteenth of January that his contract of immunity, signed, sealed and placed in escrow on the eighth day of May, 1907, was void because Judge Lawlor refused to comply with its conditions. This affidavit was filed in the department of the Superior Court over which Judge Lawlor presides. If what Ruef states is the truth, Langdon was guilty of falsehood when he gave out to the public at the time the document was given to the newspapers for publication that Ruef's contract was canceled because he refused to comply with its conditions. The conditions stated in the contract were that he should tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth whenever called upon to do so. Ruef has said in interviews that he has been ready to do this at all times, but that the prosecution have violated their agreement without cause. Rabbi Nieto and Rabbi Kaplan assert that Judge Lawlor promised to do whatever the prosecution desired in the matter of granting of immunity. Why has he changed his mind now? Or has he declined to grant the promised immunity in pursuance of a secret understanding that Ruef was to be duped into becoming a tool of the prosecution and then betrayed? But if the immunity contracts are good in law, as Heney contended, why have the District Attorney and Judge Lawlor assumed to declare those held by certain parties to be void?

During the past two months 8000 men offered themselves for enlistment at the New York army recruiting offices. This is 300 per cent or an increase over the previous record of recruiting. The recruits have come chiefly from the army of the unemployed, which is usually the case in hard times when able bodied men out of employment seek refuge in the army as a means of relieving their necessities. It is during prosperous times that the army recruiting officers usually encounter difficulty in getting men to enlist.

Terse Press Comment

Interstate Commerce

In Original Liquor

Packages Reviewed

It was some twenty years ago that the United States Supreme Court threw down the barriers of State prohibition as against importations of liquor from other States. The question came up from Iowa in what was known as the original package case. The substance of the decision was that liquor imported into a prohibition State was beyond the reach of the State law as long as it remained in the original packages of shipment into the State. That decision followed the judgment of the court under Chief Justice Marshall in Brown against Maryland, which was the original "original package" case. States, in a word, could not interfere with interstate commerce; such commerce is exclusively under the regulation of Congress; the shipment of commodities participating in interstate commerce remained interstate commerce within the State of consignment until the original package had been broken and the goods offered for sale; and Iowa or any other State law attempting to interfere with this movement of interstate commerce within its borders up to the point mentioned constituted an interference with interstate commerce and was consequently invalid. But the court also held that it was competent for Congress to deny to specified commodities a right to be considered legitimate articles of interstate commerce. Then it would be within the power of a State to interfere with the shipment of such commodities the moment they came within the boundaries of the State.

The latest plan of battle in the Empire State shows the work of a master hand in politics. It is a tentative program, which cannot be sent to the printer yet. Several heads must suit it, and each has a right to run his blue pencil through vital provisions in the scheme. If it can be made to work it will prove a winner.

William Howard Taft for President, Timothy Lester Woodruff for Vice-President, Charles E. Hughes for Governor of New York, and James W. Wadsworth for Lieutenant-Governor, with William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the Republican State Committee, and George Bruce Cortelyou helping in the national campaign—this would certainly be a great combination.—Los Angeles Times.

Colonel Watterson's Definition of What Constitutes Democracy

Home rule, sound money, and all men's rights; the interests of the few subordinated to the interests of the many, but the interests of the few respected; the complete separation of church and state, and a tariff for revenue only; no clericalism, no class distinction, no caste discrimination and no sumptuary laws. That is democracy pure and simple, democracy interfused with a vengeance had the liquor become mingled with the mass of property" in the State, and so subject to State law, until the bottle or "original package" had been uncorked or broken, which would be at the moment of the disappearance of the contents down the throats of bibulous Iowans. Then with a vengeance had the liquor become "mingled with the mass of property" within the State, but only then could Iowa law interfere—which was when it might interfere all it wanted.

GAS AND TELEPHONE CASES GO OVER FOR WEEKS

Halsey Too Ill to Appear and Prosecution Not Ready in Other Suits.

(Special to The Tribune.) SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The case of Theodore V. Halsey, charged with bribery in connection with the telephone franchise matters, was continued for two weeks in Judge Dunne's department of the Superior Court this morning. In the absence of the District Attorney, John Wm. P. Lawlor occupied the bench, and Wm. P. Lawlor was shown to be the effect that the defendant was still too ill to appear in the court room.

There was no objection on the part of the District Attorney to the continuance and so the case went over.

The cases of Eugene E. Schmitz, Abraham Ruef, F. G. Drum, Eugene De Sabla and John Martin, indicted by the Grand Jury in connection with the alleged gas and trust bribery, were continued until Feb. 21, in Department 11 of the Superior Court this morning.

Attorney William Hoff Cook appeared for the prosecution and moved for the continuance. Schmitz was present, accompanied by his attorney, Frank Drew, but he did not appear. This is the first time that the former has failed to appear in the court room when his case was called. He was, however, represented by counsel and it is thought he is busy consulting with his attorneys and arranging for his defense.

WIFE MAY REFUSE TO PROSECUTE HUSBAND

Man Who Attempted Murder and Suicide May be Freed of Charge.

S. A. Brandon, a grocer's clerk, who shot his wife and then attempted suicide in his apartment in the Olive House on Twelfth street, following a joking remark made by the wife, appeared before Judge Smith this morning on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. The case was continued one week to be set. It was said this morning that Mrs. Brandon will refuse to prosecute her husband or to give testimony which might tend to convict him. Provided Mrs. Brandon refuses to take the stand, the defense will call the attorney. There will be but little chance to secure a conviction.

The complainant on which Brandon was called into court was sworn to by Captain of Detectives Peterson on information of a letter written by Wm. C. H. Smith, attorney for the public witness, the case will probably fall. Brandon shot his wife in the breast upon telling her that she had lost a sum of money at the race track and get even with her. She had, however, lost $100 in a poker game. Brandon then fired a bullet into his money and bank book.

He reported the affair to the police stating that he believed anarchists were at the bottom of the affair and that he saw five of them. He identified one of the men who gave the names of Nicholas Smith and Emanuel Kalinitschka. They were arrested on charges of robbery in Judge Shorthill's court this morning and the case continued to Monday for trial.

FIND ALAMEDAN; MAY BE INSANE

LOCAL BANKS IN FINE CONDITION

ALAMEDA, Feb. 7.—Geo. E. Illinois, local manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., who disappeared from his home last week, was found last night by some friends. He was in a semi-comatose state in a room at 323 Third street last night, relieved him of $10 in money and made him drink beer. His wife, who was representing a deposit of $800, met the men in the neighborhood of his home and they persuaded him that he had a position for him at a certain employment agency on Third street. Her husband, when she found him, was in a condition which probably fell. Brandon shot his wife in the breast upon telling her that she had lost a sum of money at the race track and get even with her. She had, however, lost $100 in a poker game. Brandon then fired a bullet into his own neck. Both he and Mrs. Brandon were in a critical condition for some time, but are now on the way to recovery.

In the police court this morning Brandon appeared pale and weak, but his wound is healed. Mrs. Brandon was not in court, her condition preventing her appearance.

According to W. W. Gorham, president of the Oakland Clearing House and vice-president and manager of the Oakland Bank of Savings, the banks of this city now are in splendid shape. The circulation of clearing house certificates has been discontinued and the average certificate still out amounts to $2,500, but the money has been on hand to redeem them for some time past.

Every certificate presented at the banks is cashed up immediately. It is suspected that the outstanding notes are floating in the interior or have passed out of the State.

The San Francisco clearing house, called in some of its issues, is the best in the country, says the man in Los Angeles. There is nothing in circulation but certificates, and the bankers of that city expect to keep them in circulation for at least another year.

GRIP GERM COMES FROM MARS, SAYS WEATHER MAN

WATERLOO, Iowa.—Interpolated in his predictions for February, John C. Bushy, a weather prophet of Independence, advances a theory to explain the presence of the grip germ. The native habitat of the germ, he says, is Mars, the planet of fire, which is now very near to earth, and the germs have leaped through the intervening space. He believes that Mars is inhabited by human beings like ourselves, who, he would infer, have made sudden attacks on Earth, bringing malady for years.

Mr. Bushy draws a gloomy picture for February, but one which will cheer the human heart. He says the position of the planets augurs much cold and stormy weather.

Mr. Bushy is the man to whom was imputed the movement last summer to form a weather prophet's organization to regulate the price of sunny days.

MAKES CONFESSION OF FORGERY TO POLICE

Fred Farrell, under arrest on two charges of forgery, preferred by the Fisher Lumber Company and G. H. Illegeman, was arraigned by Judge Smith this morning and the case against him was dismissed. Farrell has agreed to testify in the trial of his co-defendant, J. J. Farwell, who is accused of having forged checks on the Superior Court. Farwell is suspected of being the man who has caused the police no end of annoyance by passing fictitious checks. His past record is being investigated.

LOVE'S SACRIFICE KNOWS NO LIMIT

Here are two views of how far a woman should go to aid her loved ones, the question which is now being asked of Tribune readers:

The woman who really loves, is ready to undergo any sacrifice. As for a true mother, her love is unbounded, unlimited, even to death. So in every way love has no restrictions. MRS. A. ROMER, Sixteenth street and Third avenue.

LADY HOPE FOUNDS CLUB FOR LONDON BUSINESS MEN

Is President of Institution

The Connaught Club of London, which has recently entered into occupation of a handsome building, Connaught House, in Edgware Road, and close to the Marble Arch, was originated by Lady Hope. The club, whose new premises Lady Hope, the president, recently inaugurated, is a social center for business men in every department of commercial life, and is admirably, even luxuriously, arranged and furnished. There are sitting and recreation and reading and writing rooms, and fine billiard tables, and there is also one of the largest and best-fitted gymnasiums in London. There are a hundred comfortable bedrooms. There is a well-equipped restaurant and a concert-hall where musical, solo and other instruments will be installed, from a microscope to a phonograph and a cinematograph. Any young business

JEWELS Are Returned With MILK
By Frightened THIEVES

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—A new servant, Evans, wife of a broker, has faith in the detective ability of the police of the East Side, Seventh street station. This is the result of a robbery at her new home, 25 East Sixty-Seventh street.

The Evanses lived at the Waldorf-Astoria while the house was in the hands of painters, paperhanglers, telephone men and plumbers, but the family moved before the various craftsmen had got it all through.

On the day of the robbery Mrs. Evans had left her jewels lying on a shelf in her sleeping room, while she went out shopping. When she returned a part of it—worth a large sum—was gone. It seemed peculiar that only part of it was taken.

WHY OUR American Heiress GIRLS MARRY European Nobles FOR TITLES

DISLIKE HUSTLING COMMERCIAL AMERICANS

NEW YORK.—The reason Gladys Vanderbilt married Count Sachenky is that she wishes to escape the fate of marrying an American, who would swallow her love as he does his lunch at a counter, and then rush off again to his business."

In these words Karl F. Linth, the Austrian vice consul, who is a personal friend of Count Sachenky, has commented on what was the greatest event of the present social season.

"Do I think Miss Vanderbilt and the count will be happy?" he repeated, in reply to a question by a reporter as to whether, in his opinion, the marriage would culminate in the same manner as the Marlborough and De Castellane unions. "Well, suppose you had $2,000,000, as has the count. Then suppose you were to marry a girl with twelve odd millions. Do you think you would be happier with these fourteen millions than you would be on the editorial staff of your paper?"

The vice consul's left eye closed, and he laughed.

"Seriously speaking, though," he continued, "I do not believe this wedding will be attended by the disagreeable features of those you mentioned. The count is a splendid type of manhood, his family is one of the oldest and best in Austria, he is wealthy, heroic, kind, and gentle."

"But you Americans are such a hurry up lot. You rush off to business in the morning, eat your lunch standing up in about two minutes, and rush off again to commercialism."

"What kind of a home can such an American give a wife? It is because you gulp your wife's love down in the same hurried fashion as do you, meals and then run off and leave them to their own amusement that you, wealthy girls who love travel and easy living resort to foreign noblemen for husbands."

"What sum have the Vanderbilts settled on the count?" the vice consul was "Maxim's" is naughty over in Paris. Music begins at twelve, gaiety abounds without thought of either the moral of it or the time of it. You may shove the tables back and dance a strain or two, or if space does not permit, and you must dance, no one would mind. If for the strain or two somebody took the dainty steps on the top of table. Reckless, wild, frolicking—yes. Awfully so. And in a Puritan country it would never do because so many could only see wrong and not the frolic.—The Widow in "Town Topics."

SACRED CONCERT.

A sacred concert will be given Sunday evening February 8, by the choir of the Friends Church in Berkeley. The program is announced as follows: Hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory;" hymn, "The Half Has Never Been Told;" responsive reading, psalm; anthem, "O Lord, Most Merciful;" Concourse prayer, double quartet, "He Shall Feed His Flock;" Suisse, with soprano solo by Mrs. H. E. Pendland; baritone solo, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is;" Gound, J. Clem Arnold; duet, "Thy Will be Done;" Jerome, Walter Woodward and Miss S. Woodward; anthem, "I'm a Pilgrim;" Marston, with contralto obligato by Mrs. Elmer Cole; talk, "Seeking the Lord;" Rev. L. Wells; anthem, "Seek Ye the Lord;" Dr. Roberts, with soprano obligato by Mrs. Arthur Weed; hymn, "A Charge to Keep I Have."

The choir members are: Mrs. A. E. Weed, leader and soprano soloist; soprano, Mrs. Weed, Mrs. H. Pendland, Misses Woodward and Brown; alto, Mrs. Cole and Arnold, Misses Vose and Woodward; tenor, Messrs. Cole, Thomas and Woodward; basso, Messrs. Arnold, Naylor, Weed and Jessup; pianist, Mrs. Frank Taylor, organist, Mrs. C. Watkins.

CANTATA.

The children of St. Andrew's Sunday school are preparing a cantata, "Jack and the Beanstalk," to be given on February 28. The staging will be under the direction of Mrs. Clara Macdonald and the music under the direction of Miss Josephine Gil. Miss Gil and the children will be assisted in presenting the cantata by Mrs. James Robert Westdahl, soprano, Miss Elsie Cahill, soprano, Miss Susie Ward, contralto, William Wright, baritone and Clarence H. Oliver, chime-master of St. Andrew's Church. The work promises to be excellently done.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. Frank Smith of Elmhurst was hostess recently at a birthday party given for her husband. The evening was spent playing whist and the prizes were carried off by Mrs. Alfred Barker, Mrs. H. B. Arlett, Messrs. Hobart and R. W. Tutt.

The guest of honor was presented with a handsome smoking jacket. Those present were: Mrs. Alfred Barker, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tut, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hobart, Mr. and Mrs. W. Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brown, Mrs. Harry Arlett, Mrs. J. Read, Mr. Doe, Miss Oliver.

AN ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement is announced of Miss Eddie Doty and Jessie D. Cope, both of Oakland. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Doty, of Twelfth street. She is a charming girl with a host of friends in social circles.

WEDS Man She Owes $7000 To Pay Debts

DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 7.—Twenty-four hours after she obtained a divorce in Davenport from her husband, C. P. Butler of Des Moines, Mrs. Alice M. Butler, known as the only woman halfway promoter in America, was married secretly in St. Louis to S. F. Moore of Cooston, O., chief civil engineer of her projects and her heaviest creditor in recent bankruptcy proceedings.

Mrs. Moore was forced by her creditors into bankruptcy. Her only assets were wearing apparel and personal effects worth $150. Her heaviest creditor was Mr. Moore, who had a claim of nearly $7000 for his professional services. She has now canceled this obligation by becoming his bride.

As grounds for a divorce Mrs. Moore claimed that she was compelled to leave her husband in 1885 in Des Moines because of domestic trouble and non-support and became a promiscuous that she might make a living for herself and child. She had one daughter in the teens.

Mrs. Moore first attracted attention when she promoted and brought to head the Cofax-Des Moines Interurban railway, which was the first in Iowa, and now one of the best paying. She promoted the St. Joseph, Stanberry and Northern road in Missouri, and most of her creditors listed in the bankruptcy proceedings live there. Her last promotion was the Davenport and Maqukin, which was recently sold to St. Louis and West Virginia persons.

In a letter to relatives in the city Mrs. Moore announced that she will continue to promote railways that she may pay back in full all of her creditors.

Bodies of the King and Prince Lie in State

QUEEN MOTHER BREAKS DOWN AT COFFIN

Republicans Deny Part in Assassination—Says Ballots Will Succeed Bullets.

LISBON, Feb. 7.—The body of King Carlos was placed in its coffin yesterday, after which the queen mother, Maria Pia, Queen Amelie, his wife, and Manuel, his son, were admitted to view the remains. There was a painful and heart-rending scene in the two queens broke down and wept. Mrs. Pia had laid green leaves beside the body in a brazier. Suddenly she grasped the dead man's hands in hers and kissed them repeatedly. Her face was streaming with tears. Friends were also overcome by emotion.

When the wife and son of the dead monarch were admitted to the mortuary chamber they knelt in prayer, tears flowing down their faces and their voices choked with emotion.

It was midnight when the body, in its coffin, was solemnly transported to the royal chapel. All the doctors and officials of the palace were in attendance.

Impressive Procession.

The courtier most attached to the palace led the procession, in his case the palace cross. He was followed by a group of couriers and other officials. Behind the coffin marched the Duke of Braganza and Vice-Admiral Rodolfo, both bearing the royal plumed helmet and sword. On the king were various insignias and orders. In his fingers was a rosary, the beads being black pearls. As the procession moved slowly past the gunners, the roar of the guns while from afar could be heard the boom of cannon on board the warships.

When the final prayers were said, the palace guns broke out in rhythmic volleys. Other similar ceremonies marked the transfer of the body of the crown prince to the royal chapel. The face of the young man was covered with a white cloth.

King Carlos died a poor man. His entire fortune consisted of insurance policies held by the Bank of Portugal as security for advanced money on account of the royal expenses. It is declared that there will not remain more than $30,000 to be distributed among the heirs of the king.

Seen End of Monarchy.

Sento Machado, the leader of the Republicans in a party in an interview today denied entirely the charge of conspiracy between his party and the assassins, which traced the party to the assassination.

Machado explained the Republicans, the opposition party, had had no secret meetings or plans, and that nothing was further from their minds than a propaganda of force. He said he was certain the monarchical regime in Portugal was doomed and that it would die out peacefully within a few years. There

MISSING MAN SAFE IN SACRAMENTO PRISON

Restaurant Keeper Who Disappeared Identified as Man Charged With Burglary.

Martin Sinkovich, part owner in a Broadway restaurant who was reported missing, and Mike Sinkovich, under arrest in Sacramento on three charges of burglary, were today identified as one and the same person, by Pete Seconde. The identification was made through a picture of the missing man turned over to the police. The picture was that of the Sinkovich, who six days ago visited San Francisco at his home in Alameda street and robbed him of a safe book showing a deposit of $1400 in an Oakland bank. This book was found in the possession of the man who is a prisoner in Sacramento. The police consider the identification positive.

Sinkovich was reported missing by his partners in the restaurant business. It was said that he had gone to San Francisco to make a payment on a restaurant in East street holding taken $700 with him. The man in San Francisco, who is a waiter, was to have purchased the restaurant, said that Sinkovich had gone to Sacramento.

The next heard of the man he was in the Sacramento jail on charges of burglary. The particulars of the cases are not known as yet to the local officials.

The arrest of Sinkovich comes as a big surprise to the man's friends and business associates who presumed that he was well fixed financially. It is presumed that Sinkovich had been murdered for his money and his body thrown in the bay, but his arrest and identification as a burglar clears up the mystery.

TO PRESS CHARGE ON JAIL-BREAKER

F. L. Caldwell Saved From One Trail, but Must Face Another.

The records of the criminal department of the Superior Court of this county show that Frank L. Caldwell, who broke jail six years ago, and whose attorney John L. McVeigh, is now making another attempt to secure his freedom from the burglary charge, expressly waived the right to trial within sixty days after arraignment, so that he could be tried early on, on the ground that his right to a speedy trial was denied him.

Caldwell, together with Fred Smith and James Murphy, were arrested in 1901, for robbing the home of Herman Beck, at 809 Ninth street. They were held over on a trial date. They were held over for trial, but broke jail January 14, 1902. Smith was recaptured and sent to prison. A few days ago Caldwell was picked up on the streets of San Francisco by James Murphy. Yesterday the charge of Pease Quina released him on the charge of jail breaking because of the statute of limitations.

Today he appeared in court. Oden's defense of "loss of previous corpus." The charge of burglary will be pressed against him, and to hold him, Deputy District Attorney Carey asked for a continuance.

FIND DEAD BODY LYING IN HACK

Remains of Thomas Beck Discovered Huddled in Vehicle in Stables.

Considerable mystery surrounds the death of Thomas Beck, whose body was found in a hack in the Cliftown stables, 802 Ninth street, shortly before noon today. There were no indications of violence on the body and it is presumed death was due to heart disease, but just where Beck entered the hack, if he did, is not clear.

Beck, who is 31 years old, is a driver at the stables. He was seen about the place yesterday and complained of being ill. It was supposed he had gone to his home, 1127 Filbert street.

After the body was found today Dr. F. A. Stone was summoned. An inquest will be held.

Three days that affidavits may be prepared setting forth that the proceeding against Caldwell were regular, and that he is not entitled to freedom because of the fact that he was not tried within sixty days, as the law provides. Judge Oden granted the continuance.

CABMAN KIDNAPS POLICEMAN AND FUR FLIES

End of a Small and Early Select Party in Jail and Hospital.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—A night of dissipation, a dispute over a cab fare, a thrilling half-mile ride, imprisoned with a policeman and a fight in which the hack driver was dangerously injured are said to have figured in the arrest of Charles a policeman and a fight in which the hack driver and Peter Miller on a charge of disturbing the peace at 5 o'clock this morning.

Peter Miller, of the firm of Miller Brothers, well known carriage men of this city, was the driver of the hack, and he claims to have been brutally beaten by the policeman. The patrolman, on the other hand, alleges that he was mobbed at the corner of Sutter and Kearny streets by Miller and his friends and was compelled to beat them with his club in order to save his own life.

Charles Laland, with a friend and two women, it is said, had been dining at the Cave restaurant on Jackson street. At 3 o'clock this morning they hired Miller's carriage to drive them to the Hotel Northern on Howard street. When the latter place was reached one of the women and Laland's friends left them, it is said, and Laland paid the cabman, ordering him to drive back to the Cave. When the restaurant was again reached he says he paid the cabman $2, the latter desiring to return fifty cents, but was instructed to keep the change, as the carriage would be needed for a return trip.

Dispute Over Fare.

Miller says he waited an hour and a half and then Laland came out, desiring to dismiss the carriage. He was told he would have to pay for the time wasted in waiting for him. A dispute arose and Barry, who was in plain clothes, was called in. He arrested Laland and both got into the carriage. Before they started, however, the officer called to the coachman to come down, as he wished to speak to him.

Instead of complying with the request Miller is said to have whipped up his horses and driven at breakneck speed down Jackson to Kearny and over Kearny, the policeman all the time whistling for help, until Special Officer Brady called a halt at the corner of Sutter street.

Miller claims that as he descended from his seat he was unmercifully clubbed by Barry while he was appealing to Brady, who was in uniform. He says he received five or six hits on the head from the officer's club. Miller says that following the beating another cabman, who came up, was put on the seat, while he was thrust in the cab with Laland and the officer and several times struck with the club on his way to the hospital.

Policeman Barry claims that when the cab stopped at Sutter street he was set upon by Miller and three or four friends who came up and compelled to defend himself with his club. Miller is in a serious condition.

BILL PENDING TO BUY NAVY SONG

Congress May Appropriate $5000 for Rights to "Don't Scorn the Sailor."

NORFOLK, Va.—There is a bill pending in Congress to appropriate $5000 to purchase all rights to a song entitled "Don't Scorn the Sailor," composed by Harry P. Moore, a newspaper man of Norfolk, Va.

It is not often that a song creates much interest in official circles, but "Don't Scorn the Sailor" is different from most songs that catch the popular ear these days.

Uncle Sam wants men to man new ships now in course of construction in various navy yards and ship building plants throughout the country, and also some ships already in the service. The government is offering all sorts of inducements to get young men of good character to enlist in the navy. Pretty and well worded advertisements appear regularly in magazines and newspapers, telling of the promotion that await good men who cast their lot with Uncle Sam's sea fighters.

DEFENDS UNIFORM.

But "Don't Scorn the Sailor" is a song that defends the uniform of the enlisted men of the navy and contradicts in verse and catchy music the impression created in some minds that the sailor is looked upon as a bad man.

The song has been practically adopted by the navy already, and it is played every day by bands on all ships composing the big fleet now en route to the Pacific coast under the command of Rear Admiral Evans. It has been highly praised by a former General Bonaparte, Admiral Evans. Rear Admiral Evans and by other high naval officials.

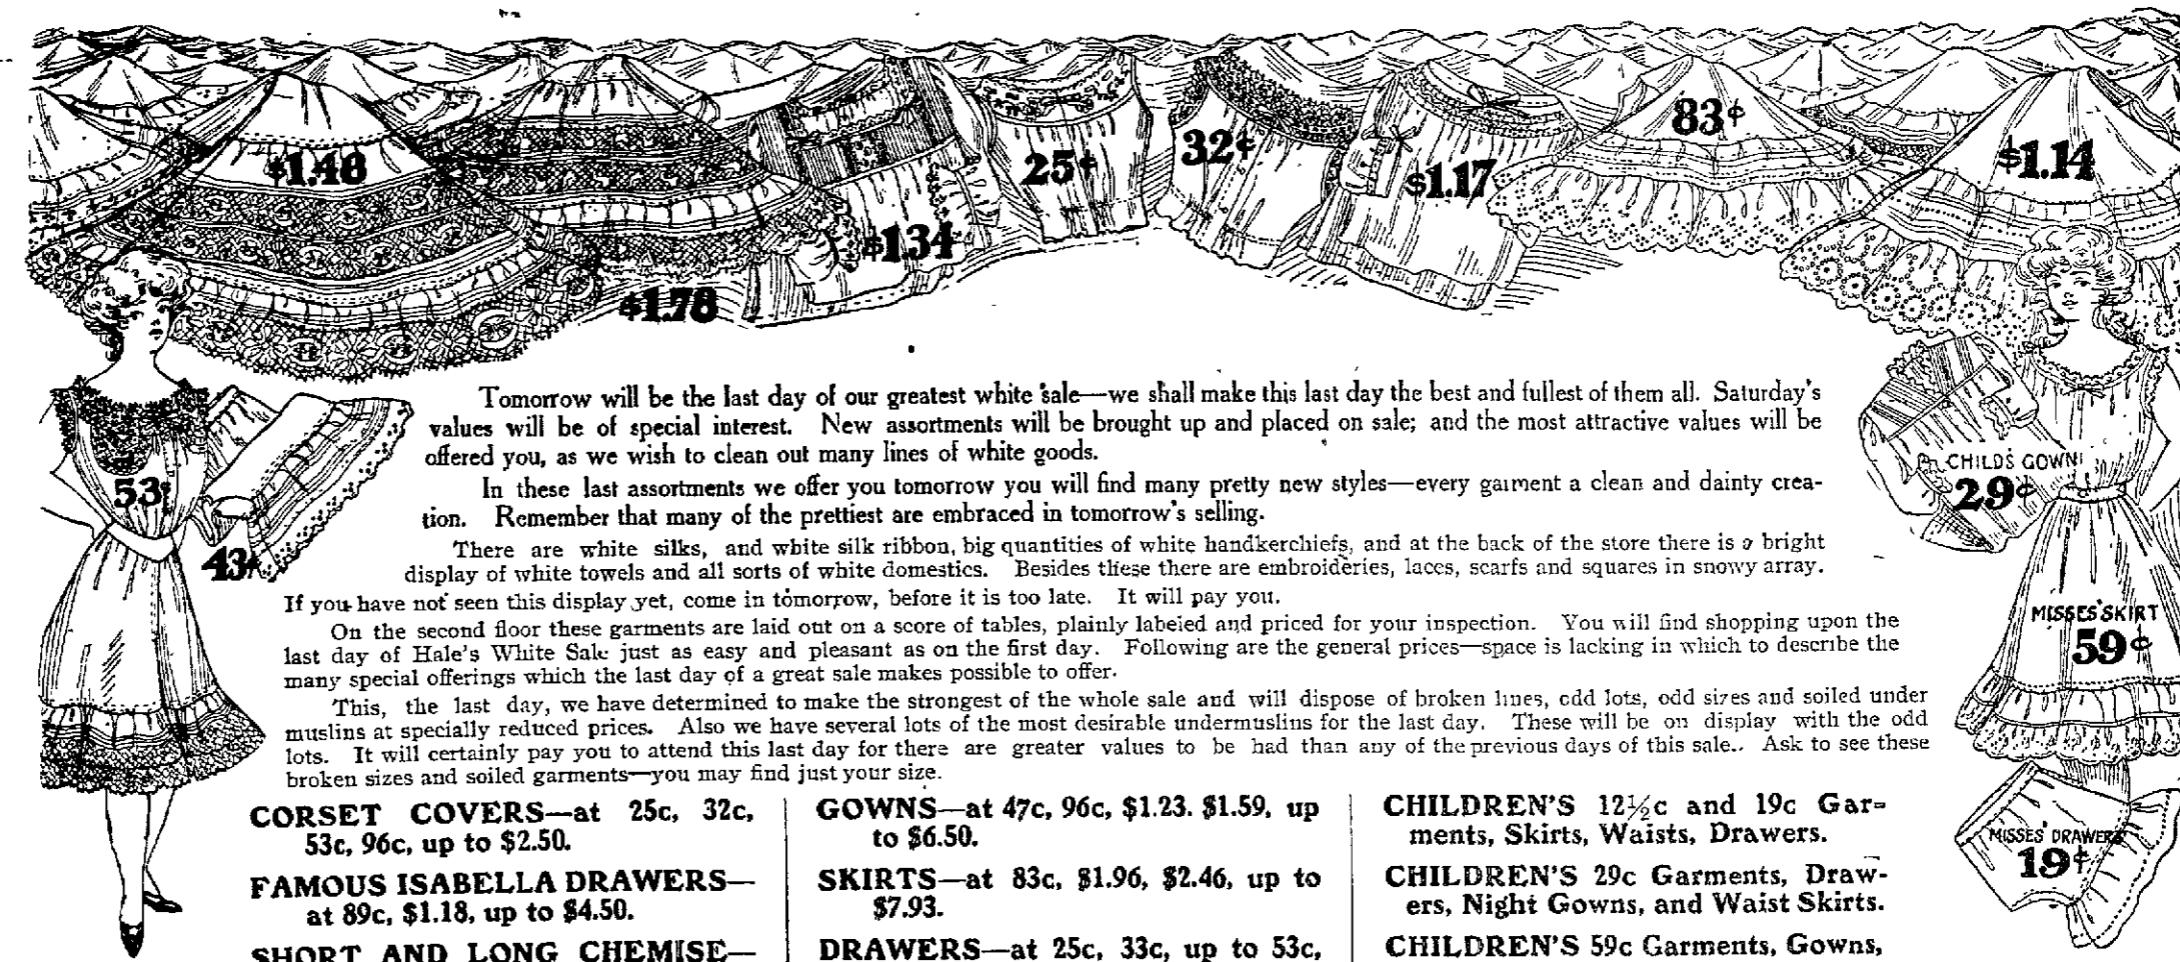

Mr. Moore says that he was inspired to write the song by an incident that happened in his own town. An enlisted man of the navy rented a house for himself, his wife and one child. It happened that at the time he applied to the landlord he was in civilian clothes. He gave his occupation, however, and sent for his wife and little boy to come on as he had secured a home for them.

When he came home in his uniform the landlord told him he could not live in the house and wear the clothes provided by his master.

Rich Woman to Wed Prominent Clubman

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The engagement is announced of Mrs. Anna M. Weightman Walker of Philadelphia daughter of the late William Weightman to Frederick Courtland Penfield, the diplomat, author and club man. Mrs. Walker is worth $40,000,000.

Tomorrow Is the Last Day of Hale's White Sale

Tomorrow will be the last day of our greatest white sale—we shall make this last day the best and fullest of them all. Saturday's values will be of special interest. New assortments will be brought up and placed on sale; and the most attractive values will be offered you, as we wish to clean out many lines of white goods.

In these last assortments we offer you tomorrow you will find many pretty new styles—every garment a clean and dainty creation. Remember that many of the prettiest are embraced in tomorrow's selling.

There are white silks, and white silk ribbons, big quantities of white handkerchiefs, and at the back of the store there is a bright display of white towels and all sorts of white domestics. Besides these there are embroideries, laces, scarfs and squares in snowy array.

If you have not seen this display yet, come in tomorrow, before it is too late. It will pay you.

On the second floor these garments are laid out on a score of tables, plainly labeled and priced for your inspection. You will find shopping upon the last day of Hale's White Sale just as easy and pleasant as on the first day. Following are the general prices—space is lacking in which to describe the many special offerings which the last day of a great sale makes possible to offer.

This, the last day, we have determined to make the strongest of the whole sale and will dispose of broken lines, odd lots, odd sizes and soiled under muslins at specially reduced prices. Also we have several lots of the most desirable undermuslins for the last day. These will be on display with the odd lots. It will certainly pay you to attend this last day for there are greater values to be had than any of the previous days of this sale. Ask to see these broken sizes and soiled garments—you may find just your size.

Beginning Next Monday at Hale's Oakland Store a Tremendous Mill Remnant Sale

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Surplus Stocks Combined with Great Consignments of Short Mill Lengths on Special Sale for Ten Big Selling Days

Monday, February 10th, the big sale starts and will continue for ten days. This mighty event will be backed by the greatest mills and manufacturers. It will be a great opportunity for the people of Oakland to buy almost all kinds of good, staple merchandise at greatly below regular prices—sometimes at just half. In short, this sale offers you a tremendous variety of regular merchandise at a little above "mill cost." It means a gigantic retail sale of remnants, short lengths and surplus stocks from the world's best known mills.

The front of the store will be decorated with green banners—the interior will be trimmed to correspond—there will be circulars posted up everywhere in the store descriptive of the goods offered. All the prices will be plainly marked on green tickets—no chance to make a mistake, every thing will be plain as day—the entire store will be in readiness for the biggest ten day selling in its history—and there will be bargains every way you look on the three floors of this store—all plainly marked at prices that will surprise you because of their unusual lowness.

Each purchase made at this store, great or small, means a saving to you. The GREEN TICKET will be the emblem of economy—so look for it everywhere. It will be on all these mill remnants.

REV. W. OLIVER, LAST LINCOLN ELECTOR, DYING

SAN JOSE Feb. 7—Little hope is held out for the recovery of Rev. Wm. Oliver, the last survivor of the last elector of California who is dying in a hospital here. He is 93 years of age and very weak on account of his advanced age.

Rev. Mr. Oliver was an eloquent propagator with strong convictions on the subject of slavery and in the steaming days preceding the civil war took an active part in politics. With Thomas Starr King he devoted all his energies in the fight to keep California in the Union. He witnessed the second inauguration of Lincoln and on his return to California in the subsiding days of the assassination of the President. The Stevens, on whom Rev. Oliver's passionate efforts were directed, came from San Francisco which inspired a large set of poems which were written by two who were Lincoln's assassins.

The set of poems after the visit and many others of the period to the outposts of San Joaquin.

ISLAND CURIOS TO BE EXHIBITED

Japanese Booth Among Features of Fair Given by Women of St. John's.

One of the interesting events of the season will be the bazaar to be given by the "Sick and Needy Chapter" of St. John's Episcopal Church, February 19-20 in the Sunday school room of the church.

Much interest has been manifested in the coming event, which promises to be a great success.

The proceeds of the affair will be given to the poor. Mrs. August Haneberg is chairman of the bazaar and the secretary of the chapter for the sick and needy. She has imported a large quantity of Hawaiian curios for the fair and is making preparations for an afternoon and evening of Hawaiian songs. Hawaiian girls from Mills Seminary will be invited to sing Hawaiian songs.

Mrs. Haneberg will be assisted by Mrs. F. B. Oliver, chairman of the Sick and Needy Chapter. She will head the refreshment booth. Mrs. May Gonzales apron and burnt work booth, Mrs. Charles Jackson home made candy booth. Mrs. Brock, fancy table.

TELLS CORONER,
THEN ENDS LIFE

"Pitiful One Cannot Die Without Being a Nuisance," Writes Woman.

N.Y. Feb. 7.—With all the details of self destruction referred to a nicely Miss Cleo A. Walton of San Francisco took her life yesterday. She had selected her own coffin arranged for the cremation of her body, settled her hotel bill and fixed the hour for the arrival of pallbearers and undertakers just as the moment the swallows poison had completed its work.

She was found in bed carefully clad in a white skirt, a white lace shirtwaist, white lace slippers and white stockings.

She had buried her clothes in the San Francisco fire as her motive for her suicide. Another was her loss of faith in men. She had said she lived in a house wherein the man she was engaged to be married to lived. At the time of the earthquake she escaped to the street but suddenly ran back into the house and was soon on her way to an upper room where she slept.

He passed her on the stairs with his shoes in his hands and ran out passing the door where she remained without ever looking in or giving her a thought. She declared it was a worse shock than the earthquake.

In a farewell letter written to Dr. Shields, who is from San Francisco, Miss.

Walton wrote:

"I am more than sorry that our acquaintance has been so slight that you will look upon this last act of mine as a brain storm. I should like you to feel that it is the surrendering of a proud strong soul to the inevitable. It is my unutterable complaint of the infinite suffering of all things that makes me start us less. Even though I attain the success for which I should start, it could not bring a single hope into my life or joy to my heart so when the string dies."

Though our ideas have not been very close together on this subject, I believe that in your soul you will understand the forces that work within mine and that a woman of my nature and environment could offer nothing more personally as all whom I have ever loved have passed on before.

It is indeed pitiful that one cannot even die without being a nuisance. I am mailing this myself just before taking the train. If anything could be a comfort to me in this supreme hour it is to feel that I have a San Franciscan to whom I may appeal a son of the place I have loved best.

Mrs. Walton was a widow. For years she was a fashionable modiste in San Francisco. She came to New York last summer intending to open a lace establishment in Fifth avenue and make gowns for the "100".

Before the fire Mrs. Walton resided at 1145 Park Street, San Francisco. A number of dressmakers and several people living in that neighborhood said last night that they knew nothing of the woman.

In a farewell letter written to Dr. Shields, who is from San Francisco, Miss.

JUDGE COOK GIVES THIEF FULL PENALTY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7—Thomas Daugherty was sentenced to San Quentin for life yesterday by Judge Cook after a speedy trial for the robbery of Walter Melville, a junk peddler, after a brutal assault on the outskirts of Sutro Forest. Daugherty had served a term for robbery before and Judge Cook said that, as he had shown a desire to live decently he would impose the full penalty.

PRELIMINARY TRIAL FOR ALLEGED THIEF SET ALAMEDA, Feb. 7—Jack Raymond, or King Jezell as his true name is believed to be, was taken to the county jail yesterday. His preliminary examination on a burglary charge is set for next Tuesday morning. He is said to be the son of wealthy parents in the East.

CURES S.S.S. RHEUMATISM

The aches and pains of Rheumatism are only symptoms which may be scattered or relieved with liniments, plasters, blisters, etc., or quieted with opiates. As soon, however, as the treatment is left off or there is any exposure to dampness or cold, or an attack of indigestion, or other physical irregularity, the aggravating pains, swollen joints and tender places on the flesh return, and the sufferer finds that he has merely checked the symptoms, while the real cause remained in the blood. Rheumatism is due to a too acid condition of the blood, brought on by indigestion, chronic constipation, weak kidneys, and a general sluggish condition of the system. This acid circulating in the blood produces the pains, aches, and other disagreeable symptoms of Rheumatism. S.S.S., a purely vegetable remedy, cures Rheumatism by going down into the circulation and driving out the cause and making this life-stream pure, rich and healthy. When the blood has been cleansed of the irritating, pain-producing acids by S.S.S., the pains and aches cease, the muscles become soft and pliable, the health is built up, and Rheumatism completely and permanently cured. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

BOHEMIAN CLUB TO SEE HOTALING

Over 300 Seats Ordered for Tonight's Production of
"Hamlet."

There will be a fashionable assemblage in Ye Liberty Playhouse this evening, the occasion being the attendance of the members of the Bohemian Club of San Francisco to witness the performance of Richard M. Hotaling in "Hamlet."

Tonight will be the Bohemian Club night. A large number of seats have been reserved by the clubmen and Dick Hotaling will be given an ovation by the good fellows of whom he has always been regarded as about the best.

Several days ago the club made a requisition for over 300 seats, so there is a certainty that there will be a gathering of Bohemians not to be duplicated anywhere except at the private links of the club or at the midsummer revels under the majestic redwoods of the Russian River.

Dick Hotaling has been steadily improving in his representation of Hamlet. All his misgivings have been dissipated, all his doubts of the artistic success of the season of Shakespeare have been forgotten. He is delighted with the support given him by the Bishop players and with the magnificence of the scenery with which "Hamlet" has been staged. Commencing next Monday evening he will play Shakespeare's great tragedy, "Othello," and will alternate in the characters of Othello and Iago with Landers Stevens and Henry C. Mortimer.

PIONEER WOMAN OF THIS CITY CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Mary Carmody Dies at Advanced Age.

In the death of Mrs. Mary Carmody
Oakland loses another of the pioneer women who have long been identified with the city. The deceased came here in the early fifties and has since made this place her home. Herself and her husband have been survived by two children, Mrs.
Adrienne Gilbert and Mrs. Cola Shanner.
At the time of her death Mrs. Carmody had just entered her eightieth year.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock from St. Mary's

FINDS BOY VICTIM OF CAR IS HER SON

Youngster Ground to Death
Identified by Frantic Mother
at Morgue.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—The boy who was run over and killed by an Element car at the corner of Ellis and Howard streets, and mangled beyond recognition, was identified at 10 o'clock this afternoon as Joseph McKeon, 16, years old, who had lost his mother and two sisters in the 1867 Dolores street

The family is prostrated over the discovery that the dead boy was their son and brother. The identification was made by means of the clothing.

ROBBERS GAG NURSE;
TAKE $3000 IN JEWELS

GOLDFIELD, Feb. 7.—Overpowering
the night nurse, Mrs. Grace M. Hoyt, by throwing a heavy cloak over her head when she answered their knock on the door, two masked men entered the County Hospital at 2 o'clock this morning and secured $3000 worth of diamonds and jewelry. The robbers bound Mrs.
Hoyt's mouth and foot, placed a gag in her mouth, and placing her on a bed in the front hall, ransacked the hospital.

Neighbors favorite.

Mrs. E. D. Charles, of Harbor, Maine, speaking of Electric Bitterns, says: "It is a neighborhood favorite here, with it is a neighborhood favorite here, with it gives quick relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood is very useful as a spring medicine."

WITH OFFICERS
ON IDEA

Expressions of Opinion Made by Leaders of Church and Helpers of Poor.

Representative members of the Unitarian Women's Alliance and the directors of the Associated Charities are declaring that the State and not the church should provide funds for the indigent poor.

Mrs. George Schummel, secretary of the Unitarian Women's Alliance, said:

"We would like the co-operation of the churches for the sake of ascertaining what each organization is doing so that the work will not be duplicated. We want the work done intelligently."

"I don't think the Unitarian Women's Alliance understood the request sent to them by the Rev. Dr. Simonds regarding the appointment of the committee, which did not mean the contribution of funds, but the committee was to have been appointed to visit the indigent people of our community. There are more ways than one of giving charity."

B. H. Pendleton, one of the directors of the Associated Charities, said:

"I think that individual members of the church should contribute to the Associated Charities if they feel charitably inclined."

"I think we have quite enough to attend to without aiding the Associated Charities. Our own poor people come first."

"I believe that the church should assist in supporting the Associated Charities after the needy ones in their own camps are properly provided for."

AGREES ON POINT.

Mrs. Tyrrel, a representative member of the Unitarian Women's Alliance, and a philanthropist, said:

"I do think that the State and not the church should support the Associated Charities. I know individual members of the Unitarian Women's Alliance who have contributed liberally to the Associated Charities and were pleased to do so."

"We have always had a charitable fund aside from the Associated Charities."

Mrs. C. H. Redding, honorary member of the Associated Charities and the Unitarian Women's Alliance, said:

"Unitarians should be just before, they are generous. They should, of course, provide for the needy ones in their church, and if they have a surplus fund
let them give it to the Associated Charities."

"I think the State ought to provide for the Associated Charities. I believe in the co-operation of the church and charitable organizations working together."

"Put me down for organized charity."

"It takes people of a great deal of education to understand what it means."

Mrs. C. D. Rollar, an active member of the Unitarian Women's Alliance, said:

GIRL SHOOTS HAT
FROM BURGLAR*AT NIGHT

Routs Marauder Who Had Automobile Party Covered With Revolver in Roadway.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Armed with two heavy revolvers, which she used after the manner of an expert, Miss Claribel Otto, 20 years old, engaged last night in a running duel with a burglar who made his escape after having had a bullet plow its way through his hat.

Miss Otto, who is the niece of Edward Otto of 1615 South Hoover street, was one of a party returning from an automobile ride tonight. When the burglar was discovered inside the house, Miss Otto, without appearing to be aware of his presence, slipped across the street and borrowed two revolvers from a neighbor.
Meanwhile the burglar emerged and covered three members of the party with his own weapon.

He was ascending the stairs when Miss
Otto, from across the street, opened fire.
The bullet hit his hat from his head.
The young woman fired again before the intruder and replied with a bullet.

Then he started to run and Miss Otto pursued, sending bullet after bullet in his direction as he fled in the dusk. Once or twice the man half-turned and fired at the girl, but she pursued until her last shot, after spending its force, wounded a ten-year-old girl, Lida McDonald, in the hand. At the child's cry of pain Miss Otto thrust the weapon into the hands of another pursuer and hurried to comfort the child.

The burglar escaped, but the police all over the city have been furnished with his description. Miss Otto attributed her brave action to the fact that she was taught the use of weapons when a child on a Texas cattle ranch.

CONVENTION HALL IN CHICAGO TO SEAT 11,011

Platform Contains Nearly 2000 Chairs for Guests Specially Invited.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Chairman Harry S. New, Secretary Elmer Dover and other members of the sub-committee of the Republican committee, practically have completed the hall arrangements for the national convention to be held in Chicago next June.

The convention will assemble in the Coliseum, the scene of many historic gatherings which was designed and erected with special reference to the needs of a political convention. In the opinion of Secretary Dover, while arrangements for previous conventions in the Coliseum have been excellent, they will be better this year.

The most radical of these improvements is an entire change in the seating arrangements. The platform, instead of being at the center of one side of the Coliseum will be at one end. This will not decrease the number of seats, but will permit all who occupy seats both to see and hear the proceedings.

11,011 Seats in Hall.

The total number of seats, according to present plans is 11,011, which includes the seats provided in balconies that extends around the hall. On a raised platform above the floor of the auditorium will be provided seating for the chairman and secretaries of the convention and fifty-six seats for members of the national committee. The section in the rear of the platform provided for specially invited guests will contain 1,526 seats. Directly in front of the platform and extending on both sides of it are the sections provided for working members of the press. These sections will give desk room for 416 writer, nearly 100 more than were provided for at the last convention.

In the body of the hall 1,000 seats are provided for the delegates and immediately back of them 1,000 more have been set aside for the alternates.

Twelve Entrances.

On each side of these two sections and in the rear of them are 3,615 seats for the spectators, these sections being arranged in amphitheater style. The balcony section contain 3,198 seats for the general public, most of them being very desirable. Entrances to the hall are provided on all sides, the total number being twelve, exclusive of several airway entrances from the basement to the platform and guests' sections.

In the basement admirable arrangements have been made for the convenience of the delegates, alternates and the members of the press. Telegraph and telephone offices will be established.

The decorations of the Coliseum both inside and outside, will be elaborate and beautiful.

Woman Thief Uses Policeman As Ruse

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—R. G. Bidwell, proprietor of the Hotel Metropole, was victimized by a clever female thief last night, who succeeded in getting away with a quantity of silverware while the hotel man was busy examining his register.

Bidwell, who had left the office for a few moments, returned to find a young woman sitting in a chair with her hands bandaged. When asked what she wanted she replied that she was waiting for her brother, a policeman, who lived in the house, and who would escort her to the hospital to have her hand dressed.

Bidwell stepped to the register to see whether there was any such person on the books and while he was gone the woman made her escape, taking with her the silverware and a half of a cocoanut cake, which had been on one of the tables in the dining room. *

INDIANA'S QUARTERMASTER SERIOUSLY HURT BY FALL

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Unconscious and bleeding profusely from numerous wounds, R. W. Smith, quarter master on the ship Indians of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, was found in the hold of the vessel at 9 o'clock this morning. The man had evidently fallen from the deck and had struck numerous obstructions in his descent. He was taken to the Harbor Emergency hospital, where Dr. Tomlinson worked over him for two hours, dressing his wounds and endeavoring to restore him to consciousness. He has four badly lacerated wounds of the scalp, a possible fracture of the skull, numerous contusions and abrasions, and a fracture of both arms. His recovery is doubtful.

Still, the banks would much prefer to have the public hoard its nitroglycerine.
